

Press release

On February 21, he left the photo contest "Italian Liberty", organized and promoted by the cultural ANDEL (National Association of Defense Buildings Liberty). The competition is part of the project "Italia Liberty" conceived and directed by Andrea Speziali, expert scholar of the artistic "Art Nouveau" and author of several books on architecture Liberty.

The Photo Contest "Italian Liberty" is sponsored by the portal of the Cultura Italia (Ministry of Heritage and Culture), by the European project PartagePlus and ENIT National Tourism Agency. The artistic director of the competition, Andrea Speziali uses several collaborations: scholars, academics, art historians and critics, researchers, state archives, schools, universities, academies and public and private art collections. Paramount importance to achieve the purpose of the project is the website www.italialiberty.it through which the creator Andrea Speziali, it is proposed to re-evaluate an artistic movement like that of floral style in Italy. The photo competition aims to excite and bring young and old in this cultural project in the future that sees the publication of a series of publications on the Liberty for each divided region of Italy.

Participation in "Italian Liberty" is free of charge and is open to young and old, professionals and amateurs, young soles all levels, to all lovers of beauty and values of which Liberty is a carrier.

The Photo Contest was born from Lara Vinca Masini, Andrea Speziali and Valeria Scandellari, President of ANDEL, with the intention of promoting a census of the whole Art Nouveau in Italy. This need has manifested itself due to the success of the various exhibitions "Romagna Liberty and La Spezia Liberty" in various prestigious venues in Emilia Romagna, edited by Artistic Director Andrea Speziali, a member of the Scientific Committee ANDEL

The contest, free of charge, expires 31 October 2013 subject to extension based on the need to give more space and visibility to the photos we have received.
